Using GPS to Make Our Way in Life

By Rev. Yushi Mukojima

As you are all aware, Socho Umezu has assigned me to be the resident minister of the Mountain View Buddhist Temple.

My wife Mika and I were full of anxiety when we left the Buddhist Temple of San Diego because for eight years, this Sangha cared for us as if we were their own family.

Imagine our relief and gratitude that the Mountain View Sangha welcomed us and our daughter Kurumi and son Oji so warmly!

In the eleven years since arriving in the US, I've been fortunate to share the Nembutsu and many valuable and meaningful experiences at the Seabrook, Visalia and San Diego temples.

It is truly an honor and privilege to join the Mountain View Sangha to share our experiences, happy or sad, as together we embrace the Nembutsu as a compass in our lives. Although we may feel inexperienced, we will do our best. I sincerely ask for your guidance and support.

Welcome Reverend Mukojima

By Bob Imai

It is my pleasure to announce that the Minister Selection Committee, with the approval of the Mountain View Buddhist Temple Board has accepted Bishop's Umezu's appointment of Reverend Yushi Mukojima to the Mountain View Buddhist Temple. Reverend Mukojima started his new responsibilities as our resident minister on August 1st, 2013.

Reverend Mukojima began his career with the Buddhist Churches of America (BCA) in November 2001. He was assigned as the resident minister to the Seabrook Buddhist Temple in New Jersey in March of 2002.

One year later, he was transferred to the Visalia Buddhist Temple in Central California. Visalia is a farming community just south of Fresno. After a few years at Visalia he was transferred to the Buddhist Temple of San Diego.

Prior to his move to the United States, Reverend Mukojima served as a minister in the Buddhist Churches of South America from 1998— 2001, in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Reverend Mukojima received his education from Ryukoku University in Japan where he received his Bachelor's degree in Buddhist History. He received his Tokudo ordination in August 1994; Kyoshi in September 1997; and Kaikyoshi in December 1998.

He was born in Osaka, Japan and grew up in Fukui. He comes from a family rich in the Jodo Shinshu tradition. His father is the head minister of the family temple in Fukui.

Another Successful Obon Bazaar and Festival

As one of the chairmen of this year's bazaar, I want to take a moment to extend my heartfelt gratitude for another successful Obon Festival this year.

I am so relieved and grateful for our members, outside organizations, and volunteers that continue to help in the various booths and activities. An event like this could not happen without the help of lots of people—from my co-chair, Russell Okuno, to all the chairs of the different booths and bazaar activities to the many volunteers that worked so tirelessly the bazaar weekend, and in the weeks leading up to the bazaar.

A huge thank you to all of you.

This event is an important annual fundraiser for our Temple. I see it also a time for us to come together and strengthen our MVBT Sangha by carrying out long-standing traditions (and making new traditions!), deepening existing friendships (and making new friends!), and really just enjoying the good food, cultural activities, games, and entertainment together.

I hope everyone enjoyed themselves this year.

Until next year, everybody!

Gassho,

Richard Endo

Using GPS to Make Our Way in Life (Cont'd fr P.1)

Since moving to Mountain View, Mika and I have enjoyed exploring the area. Although we don't have our bearings yet, I am fortunate to have a car with GPS. It is a remarkable tool. Most new cars and smart phones use GPS to display a detailed map clearly showing where I am at any given moment. I can really enjoy a comfortable drive because no matter where I go, I'll always reach my destination.

Simply input an address, and the GPS will show the preferred route, even announcing loudly and clearly, "Turn right at the next intersection" so one doesn't need to read the display while driving. It also calculates distance and shows our estimated arrival time. When we drive to an unfamiliar place, we arrive successfully because the system guides us. It is wonderful to have such an aid that keeps us from getting lost.

Just a decade ago, we depended on fold-out paper maps. As a child, I remember my father always driving with my mother telling him where to turn as she consulted the map. In Japan, the roads are often narrow and many streets are unnamed, so it's very difficult to find a new place. I still remember my mother complaining because there were many times when my father wouldn't follow her directions! When I went back to Japan several years ago, my father would sigh and say, "My GPS often yells at me. I want a quieter one…" But recently he told me he finally purchased a real GPS, so I am sure that he can now drive confidently to an unfamiliar place without being criticized by my mother.

Speaking of directions, if you were asked, "Where are you headed in life?" how would you respond? Could you answer quickly and confidently? As we go through life, it is very important to know where we are going, but sometimes we might not even be aware that we are lost.

Shin Buddhism teaches us to "Live with the Pure Land as our destination," and it clearly shows us the direction to the Pure Land. The Pure Land is the world of ultimate enlightenment where we return to when our lives end. And the Pure Land should be our spiritual support and nourishment throughout life.

There might be some who feel that it is an actual world in the far distant future. However, it is definitely not far away. For example, if I were to die tonight, I would be born in the Pure Land in the moment of my passing.

There might be others who insist, "The Pure Land only exists in the afterlife," or "The Pure Land only exists in this world." There are many on either side of this argument. But the Pure Land actually exists throughout the three worlds—the past, present, and future—and continues to work on each one of us. So we should realize that it cannot be defined so easily.

Ultimate enlightenment is to be found in the afterlife when we discard our blind passions such as greed, anger, and ignorance. But remember that the Pure Land is not far away. If we open our Dharma Eyes, we can see that the Pure Land is here and now and working on us. The Pure Land is a pure world of enlightenment without the defilement of the blind passions; a world that transcends love and hatred; a brilliant world where all life becomes one; and where all life is revealed to be precious.

When we reflect deeply upon ourselves through the Buddha's teaching, we cannot help but realize that we are always limited by the darkness of blind passions. Living without true awareness, we live selfishly, consuming that which we desire and excluding those things that are inconvenient. We hurt others and even ourselves. This is our ugly attachment to the self.

However, Shin Buddhism teaches us to live humbly while reflecting seriously upon our true selves who must necessarily live confused in the darkness of blind passions. Being guided to the true world of the Pure Land, we can see our own lies and self-delusions. In that respect, we can say that a person who truly sees his ego-nature has already begun to live in the Pure Land, which transcends his own calculation here and now.

We sincerely want to live with our mind and heart in the Pure Land. Unfortunately, no matter how hard we try, we ordinary people have limitations. From his writing Notes on Once-calling and Many-calling

Volume 52 Number 8

Using GPS to Make Our Way in Life (Cont'd fr P.4)

Shinran Shonin writes, "Foolish beings, we are full of ignorance and blind passion. Our desires are countless, and anger, wrath, jealousy, and envy are overwhelming, arising, without pause. To the very last moment of life, they do not cease, or disappear, or exhaust themselves." It is impossible to be completely free from the world of darkness because our minds are always veiled by the thick clouds of self-centered passions. Therefore, we often lose sight of which direction we should take.

When this happens, who or what can we possibly rely on?

Shinran Shonin taught us clearly, "The one who knows and understands all about us—the one who shows us the purpose of our life, the direction in our life, and the place where we are now in life—is Amida Buddha."

Amida Buddha is always guiding us toward the true world by calling to us with his immeasurable light and life. His calling voice is the Nembutsu: Namo Amida Butsu. Living with the Nembutsu means that we live moving in the direction of the Pure Land…that true world where we transcend our selfish and ego-nature while being nurtured by the Nembutsu the Nembutsu which is filled with Amida Buddha's wisdom and compassion. We can definitely say that the Nembutsu is the light which pierces the darkness around us. It is much like a GPS system as we navigate our way through life.

Shin Buddhism does not say that we are only saved only when we are born into the Pure Land in the afterlife. Although we will achieve this true enlightenment when we die, our life is a journey moving toward the Pure Land with great peace of mind. Being alive means we must encounter suffering and sadness because things don't turn out as we wish.

However, when we begin to realize that the light of Amida Buddha's wisdom and compassion always gently embraces us, guides us, and never abandons us no matter what might happen, we receive the great power of the Nembutsu which can overcome all difficulties with great joy, gratitude, and peace of mind. It means that we who are alive now are saved NOW. This is the essence of Shin Buddhist teaching.

Because of this realization, I feel happy and grateful despite the gravity of responsibility of our new life in beautiful Mountain View. It is my sincere wish to live resolutely and move forward in brilliant light together with our new Sangha, dependent on the Nembutsu as our guide.

In conclusion, I would like to express my deepest appreciation to all who have supported my family and to the Mountain View members who have made us feel so welcome since our arrival.

In Gassho,

Reverend Yushi Mukojima
